Dear Internet Archive Supporter, I ask only once a year: please help the Internet Archive today. Most can't afford to give, but we hope you can. The average donation is $45. If everyone chips in $5, we can end this fundraiser today. Right now, a generous supporter will match your donation, so you can double your impact.

Clamping Circuits. A circuit that places either the positive or negative peak of a signal at a desired D.C level is known as a clamping circuit. A clamping circuit introduces (or restores) a D.C level to an A.C signal. Thus a clamping circuit is also known as D.C restorer, or D.C reinserted or a baseline stabilizer. The following are two general types of clamping.

Industry Reviews. "This is it, the revolutionary RED eTap: a fast and smooth functioning electric circuit that works just how friends of SRAM groups dreamed it would." "Our expectations of the RED eTap were high - the system has met the practical tests, it not exceeded them. Because the system works extremely well,...

Free climbing is a form of rock climbing in which the climber may use climbing equipment such as ropes and other means of climbing protection, but only to protect against injury during falls and not to assist progress. The climber makes progress by using physical ability to move over the rock via handholds and footholds.
